

To Marsdens Law Group.

Approximately 1 year ago my world was turned upside down. My wife had decided to part ways and all I could think was why is this happening. It was the most stressful time of my life!

A week later I had received a letter from my ex-wife via her solicitor that she was seeking 70% of all assets. I was in a state of shock, panic and my heart was racing with every word that I was reading. This letter was making me physically sick. It was nothing like I had ever gone thru.

So the time came to start to look for a solicitor to represent myself. With the help of the internet we sought local solicitors and we had made a booking with Family Law Dept at Marsdens Camden. I walked in with my mother and we sat down with Nevine Youssef. We spoke of the details and showed the letter I had received. Nevine from the very first minute picked that letter apart detailing to me that the letter was unjust, and with every point Nevine was making my anxiety & stress was starting to steady.

From that moment on I knew I wanted Nevine to represent me. She was the first and only solicitor I consulted with; I just knew I didn't need anybody but Nevine in my corner.

The days, weeks & months passed and with every moment I needed Nevine to come into action she did it with professionalism, class & strength. She absolutely knows her stuff in Family Law.

By no means was it an easy road for me, my ex-wife made ridiculous allegations, and with every step Nevine just shut the situation down. Her responses made me feel calm strait away. Nevine was reading my mind with her responses. I was simply amazed and so happy leaving her office on every occasion I had to attend.

Nevine was prompt and had every detail at hand when it was time to attend court. Nevine gave me honest advice and in NO way did Nevine proceed to make my matter drag on. I am so grateful for this because all the advice I got from people in similar situations was that 'solicitors are only there to make money for themselves'. In my experience this was far from the truth from Nevine & the whole Family Law Team.

My matter came to an end not too long ago with myself getting exactly what I wanted, equal share of my kids. I was able to keep the family home I had bought by paying out a sum of money to the ex-wife. Looking at the big picture it was a great outcome for me thanks to Nevine & Team.

In finalising I cannot say enough good words about Nevine Youssef & The Marsdens Family Law Team. I hope my situation is something I will NEVER have to go thru again. but I thank the dear Lord every time my kids stay with me at the home I was able to keep that my paths had crossed with Nevine Youssef & the team when I was in need.

From the bottom of my heart I thank you Nevine, Vayshali & Gemma and the rest of the team for all your hard & amazing work.

Yours Sincerely
George Vumbaca
